Tassos Kanellos, is an architect and has received his Diploma (2006) from the School of Architecture of the National Technical University of Athens. He holds an MSc in "Adaptive Architecture and Computation" (Distinction, 2007) from the Bartlett School of Graduate Studies, University College London. He has worked as a Design Systems Analyst for the "Specialist Modeling Group" at "Foster + Partners" in London and has collaborated with several architectural practices in Athens. He is a registered architect in Greece and is currently working as a freelance in Athens, while pursuing a PhD at the School of Architecture of NTUA. His academic interests are in the area of computational design and his research focuses on physics simulations.